

Oriented graphs with extremal skew energy

Xueliang Li¹

¹Center for Combinatorics, Nankai University, Tianjin 300071, China, lxl@nankai.edu.cn

An oriented graph has a skew symmetric adjacency matrix. The skew energy of an oriented graph is the sum of the norms of the eigenvalues of its skew symmetric adjacency matrix. In this talk we will survey the results about oriented graphs with maximum or minimum skew energy. Some open questions are also presented.